

LUZ VILLAGE

 373  N 38° 20' 881" W 7° 23' 360" (dock)

Luz village is the most recent village in the country. It was founded when the 373 residents of the former Luz village had to be rehoused due to the rising waters of the Alqueva dam.

The village was planned according to the cultural standards of the region and respecting the housing accommodations of each resident in the old settlement. This model project has preserved the community's values.

Tradition and modernity go hand in hand in the streets lined with white houses, chimneys from wood-fired ovens, alleys, courtyards and neighbourly relations that have not been lost, or even in the new church of Nossa Senhora da Luz.
